

Exclamation marks

We use exclamation marks to:

- show strong feeling, surprise or shouting
- end a sentence that is an exclamation: What a lovely day!
- use only a few: too many weaken the effect

Examples

Watch out!

What a huge dog!

english.litlings.com | free to print and copy for classroom use