

Speech marks

We use speech marks to:

- go around the exact words someone says
- start a new line when a new person speaks
- have a comma, question mark or exclamation mark inside before the closing marks

---

Examples

"I am hungry," said Ava.

"Where is my bag?" asked Sam.

english.litlings.com | free to print and copy for classroom use